

SAINTLY GLÖGG

ABOUT SAINTLY GLÖGG

Samuel Johnson wrote "Claret is the drink for boys, Port for men, but he who aspires to be a hero must drink Brandy." Ergo, Glögg will make us saintly.

Originally from Sweden, Glögg (pronounced glooog) is a high octane, hot mulled wine made with a potpourri of spices and all three of the above: Claret (red wine), port, and brandy. Based on several authentic Swedish recipes we found, our recipe has evolved since 1974 when we first made it. Our Glögg now also includes cardamom, cloves, cinnamon, orange peel, raisins, almonds, and sugar.

The aroma in the kitchen of mulling Glögg is heavenly, and when it is served steaming hot after a hard day of skiing, skating, or shoveling snow, the body and soul warm from the inside out.

To serve Craig & Lou's Saintly Glögg, warm it gently over a low flame or in a crockpot, pour it into a mug, and garnish it with a strip of fresh orange peel twisted over the mug to release its oils. Drink Glögg while seated and give your car keys to a friend. For our recipe, go to AmazingRibs.com.
